FOREWORD AND

Sewanee has been for the class of 1956 a passing away of four precious years. It has been a life of owl flicks, of cramming the night before, of Abbo classes, of miserable blind dates, of Eagle trips, of many groggy mornings and of countless other memories. To some it has meant a warm and endearing touch of friendship that will last for a lifetime. To others, this June will be the last month that the men of the mountain shall ever talk and see each other again. But to all, it has been part of a life that will never fail and one which will live on in its own history.

C O N T E N T S

Any attempt to record all of the events of a single year would be futile. Only a small part of Sewanee life is recorded here.

The rest remains for its cloisters, its Chapel, its successes, and its failures. Here beneath a tolerant conservatism of manner strives a progressiveness of mind. Here amid a scientific and rational evaluation of fact and theory lies the eternal faith in truth. And here behind the casualness of youth are the working fact of an Honor System and the inspiration of the Mountain. And here amid this mass of paper and ink the CAP AND GOWN has tried to recall those few moments which will always accompany a pensive mood. And here on the Mountain will remain a story of the past and a faith in the future which lives on in the Class of 1956.

DR. R. W. P. ELLIOT

One of the dreams of the three founders of the University of the South was to create an institution which would engender in the hearts of its sons a love that would make service to Sewanee and its ideals a life-long devotion. This desire has its perfect embodiment in Dr. R. W. P. Elliot, grandson of one of the founders. After having been graduated from the University in 1894, Dr. Elliot pursued a distinguished legal career as a member of the firm of Harrison, Elliot, and Byrd in New York. He received an LL.B. degree from Columbia University and has received the degrees of A.B., M.A., and D.C.L. from the University of the South. In 1939 he and his wife, Marian Bradford Elliot, returned to Sewanee and Dr. Elliot since that time has given all legal services to the University repeatedly defending its rights in complicated litigation involving domain and endowment. Dr. Elliot, the son and grandson of bishops has always given unremittingly of his time and money to the works of the Episcopal Church in New York and at Sewanee. But as indebted as Sewanee is to him for his actual most valuable legal counsel it is to the example of his life to which tribute must be paid. Proceeding from a great tradition, Dr. R. W. P. Elliot has made that tradition vital in his life of Christian duty. He is a son of Sewanee in the most comprehensive sense and his devotion to its ideals have made them a reality for all to behold. The class of 1956 is most proud to dedicate their annual to such a man.

THE CHANCELLOR

THE RT. REV. R. BLAND MITCHELL

"Sewanee has always been to me a vision and ideal clothed in Christian performance." These words of the Rt. Rev. R. Bland Mitchell admirably illustrate his concept of the purpose of Sewanee; a concept which has been given concrete meaning by his six years of service as chancellor of the University of the South. His vision of Sewanee has developed during an intimate association which has extended from his graduation from the Sewanee Grammar School in 1904 through his B.A. received from the College of Arts and Sciences in 1908, a Graduate of Divinity degree in 1912, Bachelor of Divinity degree in 1921, and in recognition of his service the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1931. Although his ordination in 1912 removed him from direct contact with Sewanee as he served the Church in missionary fields and in the National Council, Bishop Mitchell returned to the Mountain in 1928 to serve for a year as director of the Expansion Fund Campaign of his alma mater. He left Sewanee again to serve in parish work until his consecration as Bishop of Arkansas in 1938. As bishop of an owning diocese, he was able to implement his desires for Sewanee, and his election as Chancellor in 1950 was a tribute to his continued devotion to an "ideal of Sewanee clothed in Christian performance."

DR. EDWARD McCrady

Few liberal arts institutions are fortunate enough to have as president a man who represents the scope of intellectual interest which it is their purpose to stimulate in their students. Sewanee is so favored in the person of Dr. Edward McCrady, Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South. The range of Dr. McCrady's mind extends from biology and speleology to music, art, and theology. Like a Renaissance man he moves with equal ease in these varied fields, and the result is an emphatically negative answer to the modern myth of the specialized man. Dr. McCrady comes from a family closely associated with Sewanee, but he was educated at the College of Charleston, B.A., the University of Pittsburgh, M.S., and the University of Pennsylvania, Ph.D. The son of an Episcopal minister, Dr. McCrady has been most successful in combining modern science with traditional Christianity. His influence has extended far from his Mountain home as the spokesman of the Sewanee ideal throughout the country. He has been the ideal that has given his own words meaning.

Deserve this favored land"

Second row: Bishop Henry I. Louttit, Bishop Girault M. Jones, Bishop R. Bland Mitchell, Mr. Charles McD. Pucketts. Third row: Mr. R. Morey Hart, The Rev. Mortimer W. Glover, Jr., Mr. Albert Roberts, Mr. Dudley Gale.

BOARD OF REGENTS

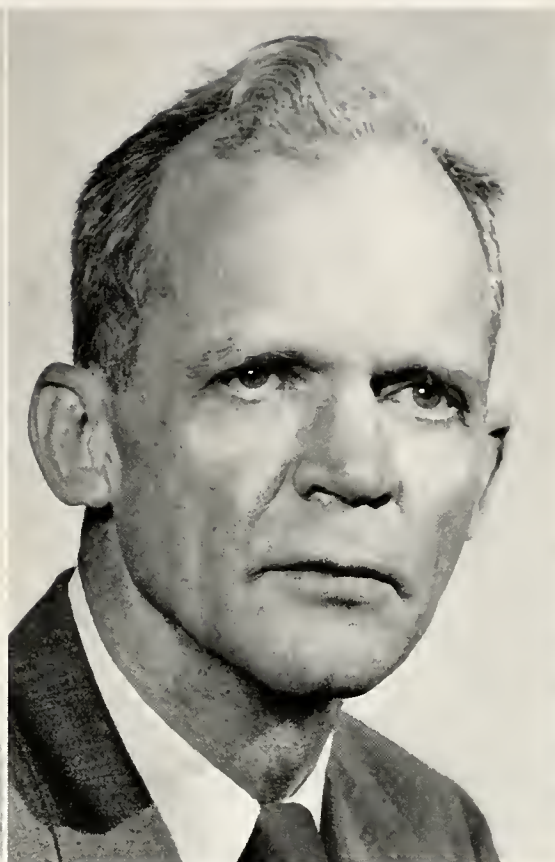

Bishop Juhan views construction on the new gym named in his honor

The Board of Regents launched the million-dollar construction program at Sewanee this year, but this was only one of its many actions. The Board acts as the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, by which it is elected. The Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor serve in ex-officio capacity as members of the fourteen-man board which is completed with three Bishops, three Presbyters, and six laymen. The scope of the power of the Board extends from the conferring of honorary degrees to the general supervision of the University. Sewanee honors with membership on the Board only those who have served her well.

THE DEANS

DEAN OF ADMINISTRATION

DR. GASTON S. BRUTON

Dr. Gaston Swindell Bruton serves in a double capacity as head of the Mathematics Department and as Dean of Administration. In his math position, Dr. Bruton maintains a full class schedule. In the absence of the Vice-Chancellor, it is his duty to act in the place of Dr. McCrady. Dr. Bruton also has charge of the physical maintenance of the University which includes campus housing and the regulation of matrons and proctors.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

As Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Charles Trawick Harrison has control of the academic system in general and the duties of faculty supervision. Dr. Harrison is Professor of English and a frequent guest lecturer in the Music Department. Numerous articles of his have appeared in the Sewanee Review and other periodicals throughout the country. Other duties of Dr. Harrison's are those which involve academic records, course credit, degree requirements, and transfer records.

DEAN OF MEN

DR. JOHN M. WEBB

Dr. John Maurice Webb is the acting Dean of Men for the College of Arts and Sciences in the absence of Dr. Robert S. Lancaster, who is teaching under a Fulbright Grant in Bagdad. Dr. Webb is Associate Professor of History, which necessitates maintaining of a full class schedule. Problems other than academic fall under the jurisdiction of the Dean of Men. Chief among these are student relations and problems, and chapel and class attendance. Dr. Webb is also Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Discipline.

Any student who has considered the influences which have made his collegiate life at Sewanee a memorable and profitable period can never overlook the place of the matrons. They have been an important factor in inculcating adult manners among young men still in their formative years. They have given warmth to the existence of many students who were in need of the right word at the right time. They best symbolize the traditions of the South that have made the University of the South a place we will long feel in our lives after conscious thoughts of it have passed away. To you, our matrons, we give deep thanks; you are best manifested in the lives of the boys to whom you are so devoted, and who are so devoted to you.

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

THEOLOGY

DEAN OF THE SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

The St. Luke's School of Theology is a seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Established in 1878 as a constituent college of the University of the South with the status of a professional school, it has steadily grown in enrollment until this year it achieved a record high of students. The Theological school is under the same administration as the college, but has its own dean who handles the bulk of the school's affairs. The faculty of the school is separate from the College of Arts and Sciences.

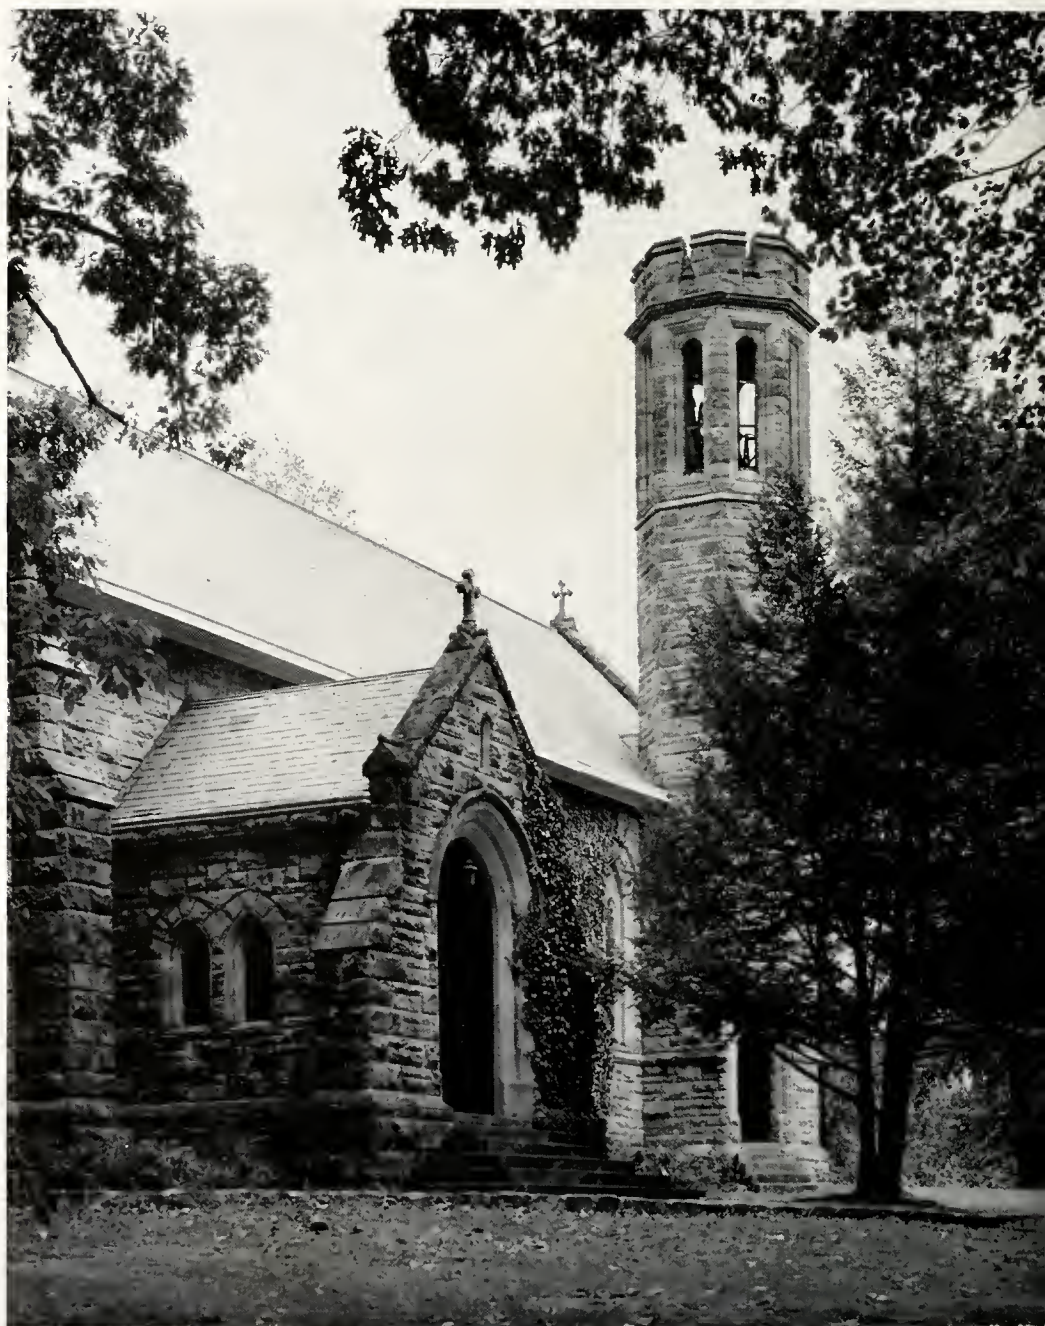

The School of Theology has continually been on an academic upgrade in the education of Episcopal priests, and the administration intends to further this progress. Since its founding, over eight hundred men have gone forth from St. Luke's into the ministry of the Church.

The Rt. Rev. Edmund Dandridge is the acting Dean of the School of Theology; in this position he has done an outstanding job of furthering the preparation of Christian men for the priesthood of the Episcopal church. Through him, the school has remained steeped in the traditions of the South and the Episcopal Church.

Its students wear the gown and receive, upon the recommendation of the Faculty of the School of Theology, the academic hoods of degrees, which are in the Oxonian tradition. Its students remain a part of the Sewanee way of life that enriches everyone who has been to the Mountain.

THE RIGHT REV. EDMUND P. DANDRIDGE
B.A., M.A., University of Virginia; B.A., Oxford University; D.D., Virginia Theological Seminary;
D.D., University of the South; Acting Dean of the School of Theology.

St. Luke's Chapel is one of the most familiar landmarks on the campus. It was erected in memory of the Rev. Telfair Hodgson by the members of his family and is one of the finest examples of Gothic architecture in the country.

MOMENTS OF BROTHERHOOD AT THE

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH

FRATERNITIES

Sitting: Smith, Hamilton, Ellis, Stamler, Rucker, Salmon, Briggs, Woessner, Thagard. Standing: Bradner, Bowers, Woolfolk.

HARRISON RUCKER

President

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

It would be a very easy task indeed to say that the fraternity system is the center of extra-curricular activities at Sewanee. Over ninety per cent of the student body have membership in one of the nine fraternities, and the key to fraternity organization and cooperation is the Pan-Hellenic Council. Its membership consists of two representatives from each fraternity, and the presidency alternates among the several fraternities. This year Harrison Rucker, president of Phi Gamma Delta, served as president.

A college fraternity centers around rush week, and supervising this period is the most active duty of the Council. It sets up the general rushing program and procedure while noting that all rules of rush are kept. The Council also supervises Help Week at the beginning of the second semester which is a competitive activity among the pledge classes of the fraternities to improve the campus in some manner. The Council also shows its interest in fraternity life by giving a trophy each Homecoming to the fraternity that has the most attractive house decorations.

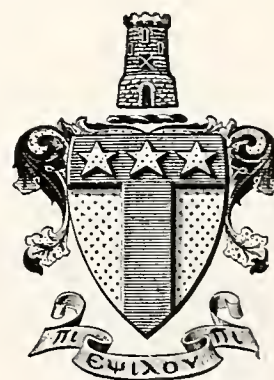

Sitting on floor: D. Wilson, J. Scott, P. Horn, W. Johnson, J. Porter, W. McCrady, J. McCrady, G. Doswell, W. Marks, J. Van Slate, R. Keck. Second row: R. Hughes, W. Brettman, R. Mogill, R. Palmer, W. B. Hunt, W. W. Davis, J. Banks, P. Bowers, J. Walker, R. Weddle. Standing: H. Applegate, J. Gibbs, R. Greene, D. Nunnally, J. Warren, F. Broadway, A. Bush, W. Clarke, R. Donald, H. Murray, O. Beall, R. Briggs, J. Stuart, J. Gutsell, J. McKeown, R. Von Alimen, D. Canfield, C. Marks, C. Lichtenstein, T. Shapley, H. Arnold, H. Elmer, R. Birdsey, T. Kirby-Smith, B. Greene, A. Myers, B. Slingluff, D. Green.

Tennessee Omega Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega, which has been at Sewanee since 1877, had another good year of parties, work, and athletics, although the same degree of proficiency was not attained in the latter two as in former years. Social Chairman Kirk Finlay put on several good parties, most notably an October one and the Homecoming parties. The pledge class gave a Klondike Party in December which was also fine. Midwinters and Military Ball weekends were observed with their usual round of social activity at the house. The Annual Christmas Party and Spring Tea were given and were lots of fun in spite of the work.

Arnold, Briggs, Nunnally, and Birdsey sparked the scholarship endeavors, and Banks, Donald, Davis, and Murray were good competitors in intramurals.

All things considered, it was a pretty good year, and everybody seemed to get something out of it.

BETA THETA PI

ED SALMON
First Semester President

JOHN ELLIS
Second Semester President

Beta Theta Pi, an original member of the Miami Triad, was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, in 1839. Although the Betas are one of the older national fraternities, Gamma Chi is the youngest chapter on the Sewanee campus. This year has been indicative of the great strides made by the chapter toward a well-rounded and active fraternal life.

Taking social life as their theme, the brothers have developed the reputation of having and participating in some of the best parties on Sewanee's justly admired social calendar. Formal and informal dinners, beer parties, and spontaneous revelries have kept spirits high during a year which was highlighted by the Homecoming and Midwinters weekends. The annual Beta weekend proved to be an ideal conclusion to this socially active year.

Aside from this phase of life on the Mountain, the Betas have established their prominence in many ways. Many of the brothers enjoy membership and elevated posts in the school's honor and service fraternities; second place in intramural volleyball went to the lodge once more, as did other intramural points; and the Betas won Phi Beta Kappa's scholarship cup by the largest margin ever achieved by the winning fraternity, to prove their prowess in academic endeavor.

It has been a good year, a lot of work and a lot of play; the following years promise to be as good, and Gamma Chi is eagerly looking forward to them.

Sitting: P. Stoebe, A. Speck, T. McKay, R. Lindop, F. Harrison, R. Hayes, W. Smith, R. Marsdorff, H. Allen, W. Senter, R. Moore, W. Craig. Standing: J. Tompkins, J. Tyson, R. Pettus, D. Mayson, W. George, W. Bywaters, G. McGowen, H. Bond, III, I. Dunlap, P. Knapp, B. Haughton, T. Martin, U. Steele, J. Mayson, E. Miller, M. Kovar, B. Searcy, III, C. Casey, R. Rosiejke, A. Anderson, W. Chestnut, R. Ross.

Under the guiding hand of our able presidents and faculty advisors, the front room of the Shelter, built in 1904, received the finishing touches of the recent renovation—a rejuvenating job by the seamstress' needle being the only work not done by the members themselves. With the skilled pledge class of twenty men, the Homecoming decorations placed third, while the house parties took first place in Delt activities of Saturday night dinners, beer parties, Rainbow Ball, and the Parisian Party.

The main purpose of our being on the Mountain, namely education, has not been neglected amid the rush of other activities. Topping the all men's average for the previous scholastic year, Beta Theta is once again diligently engaged at the occupation of becoming educated in the liberal arts and sciences.

Thus, with a proper balance of work and party, Beta Theta of Delta Tau Delta has carefully maintained the highest of standards which have been the goal of the chapter since its founding in 1883.

KAPPA ALPHA

The Kappa Alpha Order was founded on December 21, 1865, at what is now Washington and Lee University in Lexington, Virginia. Alpha Alpha Chapter was originally chartered at Sewanee in 1883. It is the goal of the Order to foster in today's young men the ideals of Christian manhood as demonstrated by the chivalrous knights of old England and the true gentlemen of the South, in particular Gen. Robert E. Lee.

Socially, Kappa Alpha is acknowledged to have sponsored many of the most successful parties at Sewanee. Each year, in keeping with the fraternity custom, the Old South Ball is held, turning back the pages of time to Civil War days. Attired in gray uniforms or coats and tails, the brothers escort their lovely Southern belles to dances, a tea, banquets, and, of course, cocktail parties. Besides Old South, the KA's sponsored parties during Homecoming, Pre-Christmas, Mid-Winters, and whenever else the occasion or possibility arose.

Decidedly Omega's most outstanding feature in the fall was a completely redecorated house to welcome the incoming freshmen, eighteen of whom came our way. Our large pine-paneled bar, containing a refrigerator and coke machine, is the most popular spot, rivaling only the Hi-Fi set.

To the ranks of our five faculty members was added Bro. Frederick H. Harris (Eta, Randolph-Macon), assistant professor of history and political science. First semester Grand Master Schilling distinguished himself with the presidency of the Order of Gownsmen, plus Blue Key, and ODK honors.

In the spring the annual Star and Crescent Weekend was inaugurated. Omega's consistently high percentage of dates made every party weekend a success. Notwithstanding, Kappa Sigma also maintained its lofty academic record to round out a prosperous year.

INDEPENDENTS

The Independents, founded by the late Bishop Hunter Wyatt-Brown, is the club for all non-fraternity men, stray Greeks, and inactive fraternity men. It was reactivated in 1954 and has since grown to include approximately two dozen active members. The organization functions under a written constitution and meets weekly in a newly redecorated club room in Magnolia Hall.

All active members participate in many social events. Among these have been an annual spring open house and tea; a Christmas party for members and their major professors; and regular Saturday night get-togethers. In the fall of 1955 the Independents sponsored Sewanee's first intramural bridge tournament, which proved to be most popular. The Independents have also fielded a team in most of the intramural sports contests, and have participated in numerous other activities of the Mountain.

Emerging from the summer season, Tennessee Beta of Phi Delta Theta opened its seventy-second year of existence with an aggressive rush season which brought to the chapter a well-rounded pledge class of nineteen.

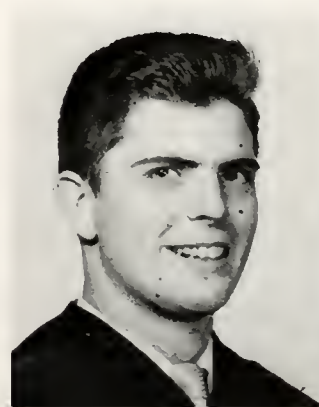

In addition, through the endeavors of the Phi intramural team in capturing the football championship, and Brothers Fasick, Prichard, Butler, Glenn, and Martin P. Smith, the chapter's high position in the social, sports and service aspects of the University was maintained.

Besides carrying out the normal tasks of maintaining the house and rescuing Brother George, the Moose, the pledges are continuing work on the enlarged Joe Grundy Memorial Game Room. Upon the completion of the game room, it is expected that its facilities will be a great boon to the annual festivities which are so much a part of Sewanee social life.

Starting fast this fall, the Fijis won the intramural cross-country title, took the "S" Club trophy for the best Homecoming float, and boasted the winner of the annual Freshman Cake Race.

Annual service activities of the fraternity included the Christmas clothing drive, the colored children's Easter egg hunt, and the massive Commencement Smorgasbord.

Social life of the fraternity centered around the Pledge Tea, the annual Chi Omega party, a Phi Gam-sponsored Sul-lins Weekend, our Christmas party complete with Santa, all of the University dances, and two big spring events, Pig Dinner and Fiji Weekend, with the Black Diamond Formal.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, founded in 1856 at the University of Alabama, had its centennial celebration on Founder's Day this year. Tennessee Omega celebrates its seventy-fifth anniversary on the Mountain this year and has the distinction of being the first SAE chapter to own its own house.

The Sig Alphas got off to an excellent start with a pledge class of twenty-four boys. Brothers McGee, Murray, Kimbrough, and Kinnett kept up the fraternity's leadership standards in campus affairs. In athletics, brothers Tranakos, McGee, Heppes, and Cater kept up the good reputation. The SAE's boasted five team captaincies for the school year.

The fraternity was not found lacking in social activities. Informal parties were a very regular occurrence while Founder's Day crowned the formal dissipation. Other big weekends were Homecoming, Midwinters, and the Military Ball. Many brothers had as additional social stimulus Highlander, Los Peones, and Wellington gatherings.

Founded at V.M.I. in 1869, Sigma Nu Fraternity instituted Beta Omicron chapter at Sewanee in 1889. Since then the chapter has always been among the top fraternities at Sewanee and this year was no exception. Sewanee Snakemen boasted first semester of having more members of Phi Beta Kappa than any other fraternity. Powerful Sigma Nu teams scored top rating in intramural events, either winning or giving fast competition in every sport. Responsible positions on campus were held down by members of the chapter, and many were elected to honor fraternities; David Lindholm scored a "full house" with regard to all the honor groups at Sewanee. Realizing the chief purpose of a college fraternity is its social aspects, Sewanee Sigma Nus wrapped up another year of exciting and enjoyable parties, maintaining the well-earned reputation of being the best party fraternity on the Mountain.

As the 1955 football season began, there was a great deal of optimism in the air. With experienced men back at every position, including almost 20 returning lettermen and with nearly 40 freshmen out for fall practice, hopes ran high for a successful season.

The season proved to be much the same as last year's so far as the record shows, but there is much to be said for the 1955 gridders. The well-deserved homecoming win over Washington and Lee gave a good deal of credit to the team. For brief moments throughout the season, Sewanee effected some brilliant playing, displaying the potentialities of a winning team, but they were unable to maintain the pace set by teams that outweighed and, through experience, outplayed them. The same bad luck which plagued the winless 1954 team returned to wrest at least one almost certain victory from the 1955 Purple gridders.

Despite a disappointing scoreboard, school spirit and team morale remained at an all time high throughout the season. The 1955 fan watched a team much improved over last year's and one that gave everything it had to the game.

The September 24 season opener against Southwestern at Memphis saw the Tigers grab an early lead in the first quarter. Art Tranakos connected with Al Wade Jones' 30 yard pass for the first score of the game. Bill Doswell made the conversion. Sewanee was unable, however, to hold its lead against the inspired Southwestern eleven sparked by Jimmy Higgason. Higgason tore off 55- and 60-yard tallying runs to give the Lynx a 12-7 half-time lead. In the fourth quarter, the final Lynx tally came when quarterback Billy Young ran 40 yards on an interception. Southwestern failed on all three conversions and the final score was 18-7.

The following Saturday, Sewanee lost its home opener against Howard College in a game plagued with bad breaks. The first quarter was a give-and-take affair with Sewanee missing a scoring opportunity by fumbling as the period ended. Late in the second quarter a Howard fumble covered by Mogill set up the first Tiger score. Lee Rowell, a freshman, quarterbacked the ball to the Bulldog one and then crashed over for the tally. Welch converted and Sewanee led 7-0 at the half. In the third quarter Howard capitalized on a Sewanee fumble and ran to the Tiger 28. On the fourth down Wade connected to Coleman for the first Howard score. They failed to convert and the score stood 7-6. Sewanee received the Howard kick but lost ground and the Bulldogs obtained possession on the Tiger 5. Anderson went over for another Howard score, giving the Bulldogs a 13-7 lead. The Tigers fired up after these two Howard scores and Kimbrough and Peebles led a drive to the Howard 25. Kimbrough scored on a right end sweep and Welch again booted the extra point, giving Sewanee a 14-13 edge. In the third quarter Kimbrough hit Peebles with a TD pass but it was nullified by a penalty.

The 1955 Sewanee Tigers

The Bulldogs clicked again with six consecutive first downs but were halted on the Sewanee two. Doswell's punt was blocked and Tuck covered the loose ball in the end zone for the winning score. The Tigers made another bid but the clock outran them as they reached the Howard 15. Sewanee led the fray in all statistics but costly errors gave Howard a very dubious victory.

Sewanee's third defeat came in the closing minutes against Millsaps College at Jackson, Mississippi. Millsaps scored in the opening minutes when a ball knocked from Bill Kimbrough's hands was carried 45 yards by end John Williams for the Majors. The conversion failed and despite two Millsaps drives inside the Tiger ten the half-time score was 6-0.

In the third quarter, Dick Foster snagged a 13-yard toss from Lee Rowell for the Tiger tally. Doswell's kick was good and the Tigers held their 7-6 edge until the last minutes of the fourth quarter when an exchange of fumbles gave Millsaps possession on the Purple 28. Quarterback John Parnell tossed the winning tally to Charles Deaton. The Majors again failed to convert but the score held 12-7.

A highly successful air attack gave Mississippi College a 24-0 victory in the Tigers' fourth game. An early score was made by Mississippi when halfback Bill Gore booted a field goal from the Sewanee 28. In the second quarter Toler led the Choctaws to the Sewanee one in three passes and fullback Sam Anderson again scored. Mangum went in for Toler and in seven plays connected with Williams for the final tally.

Sewanee's worst loss of the season came at the hands of the powerful and determined Wabash eleven. Sewanee remained scoreless and a determined but desperate scoring attempt by the Tigers failed as the clock ran out.

Kentucky. Halfback Gene Scott scored twice in the first half for the Colonels with a 74-yard run in the first period and a 94-run in the second. Reed scored the Colonels' other tallies on runs of 12 and three yards in the second and third quarters.

Sewanee's offensive was hampered without Billy Kimbrough and despite the brilliant defensive play of Dick Welch and Phil Jones, the Colonels rolled up 414 yards to improve an average already above the nation's small college.

A homecoming crowd of nearly 3,000 watched Sewanee chalk up its only win, over the Washington and Lee Generals. The enthusiastic Purple gridders played their best defensive game of the year and the offensive began to

Two touchdowns by Doswell in the third and fourth quarters saved Sewanee from a shut-out game against Ohio Wesleyan. In less than three minutes Bishop halfback Jim Boggs scored on a reverse play which also added two more tallies in the second and third periods. Goodrich scored on a 12-yard run in the first quarter and Hanlon snagged a 34-yard pass for another tally later. The other scores were made by Bishop reserves. A bad punt attempt by the Bishops on their own ten set up the first Sewanee score late in the third period. The Tigers scored in three plays as Doswell cracked the last yard. The final touchdown was made on a 34-yard sprint by Doswell in the fourth quarter.

33-0 victory to the undefeated Hampden-Sydney team. A meager crowd turned out on the bitter cold day to see an under par Sewanee team fail in several attempts to score.

Although the results of the season were disappointing, Sewanee can be proud of a team that was always called the underdog but never believed it until the final gun was sounded. With many promising freshmen and more of that precious experience the Tigers can well look forward with happy anticipation to the 1956 season. Special praise should be given to the coaches who did their best with what they had. If a winning season counted more than Sewanee spirit, we had an unsuccessful year. But to us, the "men of the mountain" had a successful year. Their record will remain in character, not in statistics.

click after a scoreless first quarter. In the second quarter Doswell failed to make a field goal following a punt return by Al Wade Jones to the W&L 25. Later in the second quarter two 15-yard runs by Doswell and Spore followed by a pass from Jones to Moore set up the first score made by Doswell.

In the second half the Purple line held down two W&L scoring attempts. In the final quarter Spore blocked a quick kick on the Generals' eleven, but the Tigers lost the ball on downs. On the second play Glenn recovered a W&L fumble and Doswell carried the ball three times for the final score. After the kickoff Glenn stopped a W&L march by a pass interception and the clock ran out on Sewanee's 12-0 victory.

CROSS COUNTRY

Sparked by co-captains Ken Kinnett and Jim Bradner and ably coached by former runner, Dean John Webb, the Sewanee Cross Country Team again finished with a winning record.

The Purple Harriers dropped their first meet of the season, 26-31, to Bryan University at Dayton, Tennessee despite the impressive running of Kinnett. Back on the mountain, the thinclads piled up a large margin, 21-36, against Southwestern of Memphis to post their first win of the young season. Bradner came in second, followed by Kinnett, Rea, and Morrow. Skip Barrett finished sixth, making the winning fifth man for the team victory.

In a return meet the next week at Southwestern, the Tigers again topped the Lynx team, this time 26-33. Kinnett was Sewanee's first man in, placing second in the race. Bradner was third, followed by Marssdorff, Rea, Barrett, Morrow, and McHenry.

The Tiger Harriers were defeated by a record-breaking Berea College squad at Berea, Kentucky. Kinnett and Bradner placed third and fifth respectively, but Percy cut six seconds from his home course record and his teammates captured a 20-41 score against Sewanee.

The third and final win of the season was posted against Bryan University here on the mountain. Kinnett placed second in a photo-finish with Bryan's Goehring, Bradner took fifth place and Morrow, McHenry, Barrett, Marssdorff, and Rea claimed the remaining places. Thus, with a 3-2 record, the Purple runners closed their third consecutive winning season.

The lion's share of honors on the varsity athletic scene was earned by the wrestling team which not only produced a winning team for the first time in the three-year history of the sport on the Mountain, but established their winning mark at the expense of Vanderbilt and Chattanooga, both of these teams being defeated twice by Coach Horace Moore's matman.

Led by captain Arthur Tranakos, undefeated throughout the season and the Southeastern Conference Tournament held in Sewanee this year, the grapplers posted a 4-2 season record, with losses to Emory at the beginning and Maryville at the last of the season. In addition to Tranakos, consistent performers were John Gibbs with a 4-2 record and C. E. Holmes and Kent Rea with 3-3 records. Although hampered by injuries, John Girault was outstanding at the end of the season.

The Southeastern Tourney was somewhat of a disappointment for the Tigers as they finished behind Auburn, Emory, Chattanooga, Maryville, and Vanderbilt. Tranakos won the 167-lb. title with three decisions, the last being over the defending champion, Dick Downey of Auburn. Tops Chew got a third place in the heavyweight class, and fourth places went to five Tiger grapplers.

Lettermen for the season were Tranakos, Gibbs, Holmes, Rea, Craig, Porter, Bruce Green, Duff Green, Chew, Stallings, and Girault. With only Tranakos graduating, future prospects for wrestling at Sewanee look good.

1955-56 BASKETBALL SEASON

Captain Green brings the ball down court in a familiar pose.

Under the expert tutelage of Coach Lon Varnell, the Purple basketball squad had an outstanding season, running up a winning 11-9 record in one of the toughest schedules played since the war. Five returning lettermen, including three of last year's starters, and a number of impressive new men gave promise of a good season at the start of practice in November, and fans were not to be disappointed. The team offset a lack of great height with a sound floor game and accurate shooting, and took good advantage of the change of rules made over the summer with special emphasis on speed and ball-handling.

After practice games with Middle Tennessee, the squad began the regular schedule at Vanderbilt, and ran up a 3-4 record before the holidays, flashing occasional real power, and gaining badly needed experience, particularly for the new men. After the Christmas holidays, the boy won three straight and went on to rack up eight wins against only five losses in the second half of the season for the final 11-9 record. As the team gained experience in working with one another, they displayed better balance and poise, and unexpectedly good performances were turned in by several men.

The first game was played away, at Vanderbilt, where the team that was to be given a high national rating overwhelmed the Purple, 85-44. It was a case of too much opposition, and the Commodores had too much power, height, and experience. Except for Larry Heppes' game-leading 20 points, there was little to shout about.

Returning home, the Tigers scored their first victory, an 86-61 conquest of the Petrels from Oglethorpe. Joe Alligood led the scoring for the first time in the season, and freshmen Jim Roberts and Richard Dezell dominated the backboards in very convincing fashion.

Traveling to Birmingham, the Tigers dropped two in a row, to Howard, 73-67, and Birmingham Southern, 76-63, trailing all the way in both games. The brightest spot was the continued high scoring of Heppes and Alligood. On their return home, the team scored two successive wins over Millsaps, 74-45 and 97-55, for two of the most decisive victories of the year. The team showed growing smoothness and strength, particularly in the second game; Alligood continued his high-scoring ways, and Dezell his good rebounding.

The last game before Christmas saw Mississippi College win a tight game, 70-68.

After the vacation, Sewanee defeated Howard, by whom they had been beaten previously, 78-32, in a victory somewhat marred by the suspension of all of Howard's first team previous to the game. Then came a victory from Transylvania, 62-57, a close one all the way; Heppes again led the scoring. With a terrific second-half surge, the Purple smashed Lambuth 82-56 at Sewanee, making their record 6-4. But a trip to Memphis proved disastrous when the Lynxes from Southwestern overcame a 17-point Sewanee half-time lead to defeat the Tigers, 69-62.

Then came the most satisfying victory of the season, the 76-72 win over a powerful team from Mississippi State. The Tigers showed brilliant speed, fine shooting, and unbeatable determination in the first half, overcoming an early State lead to go ahead by eleven points at the half. The determined Mississippians came back strong in the second half, but a tight Sewanee defense kept them in check, and the four-point margin of victory held all the way, as the Purple were never headed after the first five minutes. Joe Alligood led the scoring with 32 points.

A 49-40 victory over Lambuth followed, in a game marked by ball control and tight defense. Then the team traveled to Tusculum, where a last-half surge fell five points short in Tusculum's 75-70 victory. Captain Steve Green showed good form, however, leading the scoring with 19 points.

The team traveled to Chattanooga next for a walkaway conquest over the University of Chattanooga Moccasins, 63-37. Birmingham Southern became the first-and-only-team to take two from the Tigers, with a 64-51 victory at home. To get back to their winning ways, the Tigers avenged their earlier defeat at the hands of Southwestern by trimming them 81-56 at Sewanee. Captain Steve Green, held to nine points at Memphis, led the way with

At Transylvania, Sewanee dropped a slow one to the Kentucky boys, 57-49, as Transylvania dominated the second half. Next they lost a real heartbreaker to the Praying Colonels from Centre College, as their first-half lead fell apart and the Colonels won by five, 78-73, in spite of Alligood and Heppes, who scored 19 points each.

The final game of the year was an easy 85-57 conquest of Chattanooga at Sewanee. The Purple led 55-28 at half time, and substitutes played most of the second half. Joe Alligood scored 20, mostly in the first half, to lead the scoring behind Larry Heppes' 22. The win capped a successful year.

Coach Varnell is to be commended for training a smooth-running and always exciting team, possessed of great spirit and determination, one which provided more than its share of thrills over the winter. The loss of only two seniors and the return of a large number of experienced men promises well for next year. The prospect of a larger floor and more seating space in the proposed new field house gives Sewanee basketball an interesting future, which should live up to the highly successful 1955-56 season.

TENNIS

Three returning lettermen from last year's T.I.A.C. champion team will form the nucleus of the 1956 tennis squad.

Under the coaching of Dr. Gaston Bruton, the squad will include lettermen Dick Briggs, captain, Howard Pritchard, and Ralph Troy. Larry Heppes, Bill Marks, and B. B. Sory will fill the remaining positions. There are also several promising freshmen candidates.

The 1955 Tiger netmen compiled a 12-4 winning record and are looking forward to at least an equally successful record this year.

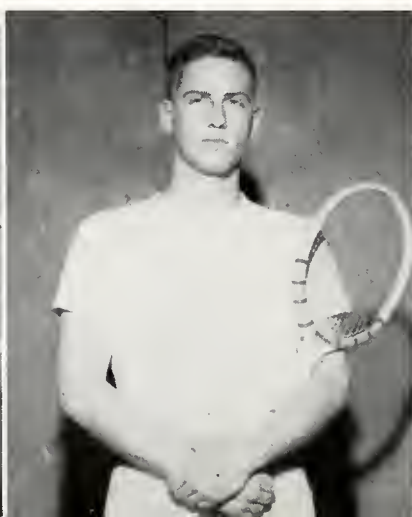

Last year Briggs won the T.I.A.C. singles in straight sets and the team lost to Western Michigan and Tennessee in match play. Western Michigan is not on the schedule this year and Tennessee's Jim Robinson has graduated so Briggs has excellent prospects for an undefeated season this year.

The 1956 schedule includes matches with Tennessee, Maryville, University of Georgia, Chattanooga, Vanderbilt, David Lipscomb, Birmingham-Southern, Southwestern, Florence State, and Emory. The T.I.A.C. Tournament will be held at Sewanee on May 3, 4, and 5.

Stallings tees off to start the qualifications for the first four positions on the team.

The first warm days of spring found twelve golfers beginning practice of the 1956 Sewanee Golf Team. With five returning lettermen out for the sessions, the prospects look bright. Bill Stallings, C. J. Savage, Jackie Thompson, and Ralph Birdsey are all returning from last year's squad. Bucky Cater, who lettered his freshman year but did not play last year, is again out for the team. Bob Tomlinson is also one of the hopefuls.

Several very promising freshmen and new men are out for the Tiger linksters. Flowers Crawford is considered an excellent prospect for the first four. Betts Slingluff, Charles Schweinle, Bud Edens, Robert Cochran, and Jay Jacobson have all looked good in the early practice rounds.

Under the coaching of Mr. Walter Bryant, the 1955 Purple linksters had a moderately successful season. The added experience of the returning lettermen plus the good freshmen prospects point to a good season for the 1956 Sewanee Golfers. The 1956 schedule includes matches against Lambuth, Southwestern, Bradley, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt, Chattanooga, M.T.S.C., and David Lipscomb. The T.I.A.C. Tournament will be held at Chattanooga on April 20-21.

1955 TRACK TEAM

The nucleus of the Tiger racers takes the laps before the first meet in Birmingham.

Jim Scott pole-vaults over the bar to pace the Tigers.

With only ten returning lettermen, Coach Ernie Williamson's Sewanee thinclads face one of their fullest schedules in recent years, but there are encouraging signs of help from freshmen and squadmen who, as usual, dominated the intramural meet.

Back from the 1955 aggregation, which managed wins over Howard, M.T.S.C., Bryan, Austin Peay, and Southwestern, a second place in the T.I.A.C. meet, and losses only to Kentucky, Emory, and Memphis State, are co-captains Arthur Tranakos and Ken Kinnett.

Tranakos, with three letters and the school record of 142'1/2" in the discus, will lead the way in the field events. Lettermen Phil Jones in the shot-put, Penn Bowers in the javelin, and Halsey Werlein in the pole-vault form the nucleus of this division. They will be aided by Jim Scott in the pole-vault, and freshmen Moore and Bush in the weights, Mitchell in the javelin, and Daniels in the high-jump.

Kinnett has earned two letters in his two years at Sewanee and is a threat to break the school record in the two-mile. He will be supported by lettermen Mike Veal in the sprints and 440, Kent Rhea in the 880, Jim Bradner in the two-mile, Bob Donald in the mile relay and the 440, and Ronnie Palmer, switching from the sprints to the middle distances. Squadmen Bob Keck in the dashes, Bill Warfel in the hurdles, and Bob Marssdorf in the distances, all look promising, as do freshmen Spore, Fowlkes, and Stewart.

The schedule for the 1956 season includes Howard, Wabash, Bryan, Austin Peay, M.T.S.C., Kentucky and Tennessee in a triangular meet, Emory, and the T.I.A.C. meet at Sewanee.

Front: Thompson, Weddle, Green, Palmer, Briggs, Murray, Marssdorff, Allen, Horn, Spore, Morrow, Bush, Coach Walter Bryant. "S" CLUB

Membership in the "S" Club is an honor attained by earning a letter in one of the varsity sports. The "S" Club assists in all of the odd chores which surround the intramural athletic program. In addition to this, they provide for the sale of refreshments at athletic events and sell football programs. The proceeds from these enterprises are currently being directed toward the erection of a new scoreboard for the football field.

The trophy for the best Homecoming float is annually awarded by the "S" Club. The Club also presents the annual "Senior Athlete of the Year" award.

Officers for this year were: Bob Murray, President; Bud Hunt, Vice-President, and Ken Kinnett, Secretary-Treasurer.

CHEERLEADERS

Lagging school spirit necessitated the revival of many old Sewanee yells and songs this year. The cheerleaders, with the cooperation of Mr. Chitty and Mrs. Torian, uncovered many of the once-forgotten cheers and had them distributed to the student body.

The Purple Yell-leaders this year were headed by Jack Thompson, a veteran of last year's squad. He was assisted by sophomores Kim Kimball and Bob Rice, and by freshmen John Gilliland, Gene Doswell, and Bill Maddux.

In addition to the traditional torchlight parade and bonfire before the Homecoming game, the cheerleaders also promoted a bonfire before the first home game of the year. Often assisted by the Highlanders, Wellingtons, and Los Peones, the cheerleaders were very successful in maintaining the "Old Sewanee Spirit."

INTRAMURALS

As the CAP AND GOWN goes to press, the Sigma Nu fraternity holds a commanding lead in the race for the prize Intramural Trophy. After winning the trophy for three consecutive years, the ATOs fell behind early in the season to the strong Phi Delt and Sigma Nu teams.

The SAEs and the Phi Deltas took an early lead in the football race. Maintaining their dominance for the complete season, they finished up the season one and two respectively. The Phis, spurred by the passing of Jay Butler to his ends, Toni Winn and Bill Warfel, finished the season with a near-perfect record. The only mark against them was the tie with the strong Sigma Nu six. The hardest competition came from the SAEs who were led by Woolfolk and Heppes, and the Phi Gams, whose tight defense remained unscored upon until late in the season. The SAEs took second place points while the third place tie was resolved by a playoff game that the Sigma Nus won from the Fijis.

The cross-country meet was the highlight of a half-time activity of a varsity football game. Once again it was proven to be a team sport and not an individual sport. The Fijis, led by Kim Kimball, John Nichols, and Dave Hayes, won on points without a single man in the first five. Ronnie Palmer of Alpha Tau Omega was the individual winner, with John Morrow of the Sigma Nus following him across the finish line.

With the ending of football season, intramural athletes turned to volleyball. Powerful Sigma Nu lost no time in moving way out in front. The Snakes went through the ten scheduled matches with a perfect record. Gerry Nichols and Sam Yarmouth led the victors to their third consecutive championship. The Betas, taking second place, gave the Snakes their toughest competition. The Theologs and ATOs finished third and fourth respectively.

Early in January intramural basketball got under way. The defending champion ATOs quickly fell behind the Sigma Nus. The Snakes took their second forty-point victory in basketball, ending the season with a nine-one record. The Theologs, led by Dave Jones, pressed the Snakes all the way but had to be content with second place points. Close behind the Theologs were the SAEs and Phis who finished third and fourth. The leading scorer for the season was Homer Knizley, Independent center, who scored a total of 178 points in ten games.

After basketball season, the minor sports dominated the intramural spotlight. They are minor since they are only 20 point sports, but they are the scene of some of the strongest competition of the year. Dave Hayes took first place in the badminton singles to pace the Fijis in first place in this sport. Bill Doswell and Jim Coleman brought the Theologs their only first of the year by pacing them to victory in the handball competition.

The "CAP AND GOWN" goes to press early in the year and the Spring sports, track, softball, tennis, swimming and golf, are thus omitted from this publication. It looks like the Sigma Nus have already cinched the intramural cup for the '56 season and the results of the Spring sports from last year are included in this year's annual.

Softball was won by the ATOs in a playoff game with the Sigma Nus. The Phi Delts won third place and the Betas held down the fourth spot. The Phi Delts from Vanderbilt defeated the ATOs from Sewanee in the annual intramural championship game between the two schools. Perhaps the most exciting game of the season was the Phi Gam-ATO upset. Parkes and Dezell went the full distance in one of the best pitching duels of the season which the Fijis won behind Dezell, 7-6.

In the intramural tennis race, the KAs with Jack Thompson and Sess Hootsell, beat all comers for the first place points. The Phi Delts and ATOs followed the KAs. Phi Delta Theta won intramural golf behind the fine efforts of Tom Thagard and Harry Steeves.

The KAs were again victorious as they took to the water in the swimming meet. Led by Harry Moorefield and Ted Platt, they were able to nose out the Phis and Phi Gams who finished second and third.

With the closing of the Intramural year, the fraternity system owes a debt of gratitude to Barney McCarty and Walter Bryant for their direction of a wonderfully conducted program. The Intramural system does great credit to Sewanee athletics.

ORDER OF GOWNSMEN

The black academic gown is probably the most prominent external evidence of the ties between Sewanee and Oxford. The privilege of wearing the gown is won by juniors, seniors, and special students who meet the prescribed academic credit requirements along with having a 2.0 average during the preceding semester. This privilege is lost by any student who, at the end of a semester, does not carry at least a 2.0 average. Gownsmen also have the right of unlimited cuts until mid-semester, when they are granted unlimited cuts in all subjects in which they have a "B" average. The Order of Gownsmen, composed of all men who wear the gown, was founded in 1873 at the instigation of Chaplain William Porcher DuBose. The Order has grown until it is now the governing body of the College of Arts and Sciences, a distinction among college groups. The students in the Graduate School of Theology also wear the academic gown. All student committees derive their charters from this organization. The more important of these are the Executive Committee, the Ring Committee, and the Discipline Committee. The Executive Committee, composed of the President, Vice-President, and Secretary of the Order, and one representative from each fraternity and the Organization of Independent Men, meets once monthly previous to the meeting of the Order to discuss the agenda of the forthcoming meeting, and to make any decisions not serious enough to warrant a special meeting of the entire organization. The Ring Committee supervises the sale of class rings, and the Discipline Committee handles the enforcement of all freshmen rules and discipline and other problems involving student discipline. Thus the Order of Gownsmen is truly a symbol of "that high and pure learning which is the ideal of the University of the South."

THE PROCTORS

The Proctors form the necessary link between the Administration and the students, a position which carries with it obligations and responsibilities to both. Among their several responsibilities, the Proctors enforce the rules of the University, and handle the various and continuous problems which arise in the dormitories. They also carry out supervision when needed in the chapel, the dining hall, and on other parts of the campus. At the close of each year, the Proctors meet and elect new Proctors, which are in turn approved by the Administration. Because of the responsibility of such a position, only those students considered to be reliable, competent, and conscientious are chosen. Appointment then to the position of Proctor carries with it honor and prestige, and it is one of the highest honors a man can receive while attending Sewanee. This year Julian Walker served as head Proctor the first semester, and Dick Spore the second semester. Proctors of the dormitories were as follows: lower Gailor, Dick Conkling; Barton, Ronnie Palmer; Cannon, Fred Schilling; Hoffman, Hoyt Horne; Johnson, Bill Kimbrough; Elliott, Bud Hunt; Tuckaway, Bobby Murray; Selden, David Lindholm; Hunter, Wooldridge Davis; upper Gailor, Dick Spore; St. Luke's, Jim Coleman.

HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council is composed of two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, one freshman, and three theological students, elected annually by their respective classes. Each student who enters the University is asked to sign the Honor Code, and, by so doing, he promises not to violate the Code in any way during his years at Sewanee. The Honor System plays an important role in the distinctiveness of Sewanee life, in that examinations and quizzes are virtually unsupervised. Meeting seldom, the Honor Council meets only when there is a case to be presented to it. When such a case is presented to the Council, its members study the facts carefully and decide whether or not the Code has actually been violated. If it has, they recommend to the Dean of the College that the offender be requested to withdraw from the University. Thus the observance of the Honor Code, and the trust and privileges accorded the student because of its existence, is not taken lightly. It is indeed a credit to the University of South, its Administration, and its student body that the Council meets so seldom.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

The Publications Board is the heart of the smooth and successful running of the organs of expression at Sewanee. The editors and business managers of the three official student publications, the Purple, the CAP AND GOWN, and the Mountain Goat, serve in ex officio capacity as members of the Board. It is very significant that free rein is given to each in the policy to be followed in their respective publications. The Board is headed by Dr. Monroe K. Spears, editor of the Sewanee Review, and Dr. Robert Degen, who assumed the chairmanship during Dr. Spears' leave of absence for the second semester. The Board's primary functions are to receive and approve nominations for the editors and business managers of the student publications, to follow the progress of the publications during the year, and to supervise the allocation of publication funds to the organizations. With the inclusion of three faculty members selected by the Vice-Chancellor, two students elected from the Order of Gownsmen, one member of St. Luke's faculty, and one theological student, the Board represents a vital cross section of campus interest and activity and maintains the smooth functioning of the publications.

The new and improved Mountain Goat, from its first fun-filled Clara's ad to its last poem by Brooks Parker, was a smashing success. Mason Morris, conscripted from his usual pastime of Bible reading, gave his all for the Goat, inspiring many Arcadians to that higher plane where the muses dwell serenely.

This year even the Sigma Nus and SAEs praised the literary issue, with laurels ranging from "I thought the symbolism was magnificent," by Killer Johnson to "push it a little further under the kindling and it will start quicker" by soft-spoken Dick Harb.

The humor issue was of course the high point of student interest with credit going to Jim Scott (he wrote the article), who served as the most humorous editor the Goat has ever had. Historically, the Mountain Goat dates from 1925 when the first issue appeared on the Mountain. The Goat was discontinued during the Second World War but was revived in the new form of "The Helikon," which was the publication of Sopherim, the literary organization of the campus. The Goat was reorganized in 1951 and has, since that year, been a significant representative of the creative work of the student body.

The 1956 CAP AND GOWN is a child of imagination and development. However, its development is only representative of a small section of the students at Sewanee. Its completion and its importance lie not in the staff or even in the material between its covers—they lie in the thoughts it will some day recall as cherished—in the recollections of the four years of the life on the Mountain.

The problem confronting any yearbook staff at the beginning of the school year is what should be the representative theme of the book. Rather than a specific theme, we selected the idea of "Moments at Sewanee" which would allow us license to go outside the confines of a theme, and which would yet recall in its own way those moments of the year—moments we hope will be relived in the memories of our readers.

Picture by picture, word by word, line by line, the child has grown to maturity. Its growth went through stages of development and thought, until its completion in March and its publication in May. Its success lies not in its printing, its theme or its presentation, its success is due to the cooperative effort of members of the staff in attempting to give to you, our classmates and judges, the enjoyment we have had in developing the 1956 CAP AND GOWN.

SEWANEE PURPLE

"In Philadelphia, nearly everybody reads the Bulletin" is the advertisement seen so often in the New Yorker; likewise, in Sewanee, nearly everybody reads the Purple. The Sewanee Purple, the weekly student publication, provides not only an interesting and informative "sounding board" for student expression and the reporting of the current developments at the University, but it also gives the opportunity to those who are interested in journalistic endeavor a chance to actually apply their knowledge and interest in such areas as news gathering, copyreading, proofreading, headline writing, makeup, editorial writing, and other aspects. The Purple attempts to offer advice concerning certain improvements, and, perhaps most important, it helps to mould student opinion and to offer recognition to those deserving it. Few realize the staggering amount of work that must be put into a publication such as the Purple before it appears on the dinner tables on Wednesday nights. The presentation of Purple "keys," presented to those rendering unusual service, dates back to 1927. These keys are presented to those students who, during the year, have made outstanding contributions to Sewanee's publications.

Membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national leadership fraternity, is limited to well-rounded campus leaders. It has been said that Omicron Delta Kappa is in the field of extra-curricular activities what Phi Beta Kappa is in the field of scholarship. Eligibility is determined by a point system, and excellence in one field alone does not lead to a sufficient number of points. Five categories—scholarship, athletics, student affairs, publications and social activities—are included in the point system; however, the system is not completely arbitrary, since the character of prospective members is also considered. Omicron Delta Kappa was organized at Washington and Lee on December 3, 1914, and Alpha Alpha Circle was granted its charter at Sewanee in 1929. Here, its purposes are threefold: First, to recognize the ability and character of those men who have shown themselves to be outstanding leaders, and to inspire others along similar lines; second, to bring together outstanding campus leaders in all fields, thereby creating a cross-section of campus interests; and third, to allow these students to discuss student problems with the members of the faculty. The third purpose is perhaps the most important, since these discussions give the students and faculty members a clearer view of each other's problems and attitudes. This student-faculty understanding is an important segment of Sewanee's heritage, and it leads to more improvements in University life than are at first obvious. Membership in Omicron Delta Kappa is limited to three per cent of the student body. These men are chosen from the Order of Gownsmen.

Each year the most outstanding seniors of the college are chosen for recognition in the publication, "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." The Executive Committee of the Order of Gownsmen acting as a nominating committee, annually selects those students whom it considers best qualified to represent the University of the South. The qualifications for inclusion in Who's Who are scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the University, initiative, personality, willingness to work, and promise of future usefulness. Inclusion in Who's Who is more than a local honor, since it is a national publication to which campus leaders from approximately 650 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada are selected for recognition each year. By selecting those students who are outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and extra-curricular activities, "Who's Who" strives to obtain a well-rounded representation of the student body, and to inspire greater effort in these fields.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest and probably the best-known Greek letter society in the United States. Founded at the College of William and Mary in 1776, it was at first a secret literary and social fraternity; however, in 1826 it gave up its esoteric character and became a scholastic honor society, which it has remained, with ever-increasing prestige, since that time. Tennessee Beta chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was established in 1926 at the University of the South after rigorous examination of the academic standards of the University. Election to membership is automatic to students with a 3.70 overall average after five semesters, or a 3.40 average after seven semesters. Upon their initiation, these students receive the gold key symbolic of their academic achievement. This work includes the donation, each semester, of a cup to the fraternity with the highest scholastic average, and the annual initiation of new members. The highlight of each Spring's initiation ceremony is an address by an outstanding speaker, to which the public is invited. The real purpose of Phi Beta Kappa, then, is to promote and encourage the spirit of active scholarship by example, opportunity, and recognition. This end is achieved by work in the undergraduate sphere, as an incentive to academic progress, and by the election of outstanding members of the community who have distinguished themselves in intellectual and cultural affairs.

Membership in Blue Key, national service fraternity, is based on all-around ability, character, scholarship, and leadership ability. Membership is not solely based on what the individual has accomplished; his future capabilities are also taken into consideration. New members were tapped for membership at the Homecoming and Spring dances. Blue Key's activities for the year started at Homecoming, when Blue Key president Joe McAllister presented the Homecoming queen with a bouquet of roses. The sponsor of the Queen's contest each Homecoming, Blue Key also sponsors the Intramural All-Star football game, the annual pre-season debate tournament, the Intramural All-Star football game, and the Interfraternity sing each Spring. Other activities during the year included the presentation of a series of radio programs over the local radio station in Winchester, WCDT, the installation of candy machines in several dormitories, and Blue Key members participated in the Thursday chapel service by reading the lesson for the day. The ushers in chapel and at other major university functions are Blue Key members, and one of the highlights of the year was the Variety show held under the auspices of Blue Key, presented in cooperation with Mrs. Maryon Moise, matron of Hoffman Hall.

CHOIR

One of the most active organizations on the Mountain, the University choir, is directed by Mr. Paul S. McConnell. The forty-voice choir provides the music for the daily and Sunday services throughout the year. An especially prepared anthem is presented each Sunday. Choir practice is held twice weekly, on Monday and Thursday nights. In keeping with the custom of years gone by, the choir presented a series of special programs during the year. The Christmas Carol service was held on December 11. The highlight of this service was the singing of the cantata, "Das Neugebor'ne Kindelein," by Buxtehude. The following night, the same service was again presented at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Chattanooga. Other especially prepared programs of sacred music were presented during Holy Week, and at commencement. Containing a large segment of the student body, the choir is open to students of any religious denomination. During the past five years, the choir has recorded two albums of sacred music. The second of these was issued in 1955, under the RCA label, and was sponsored by the Sewanee Music Club.

PURPLE MASQUE

Purple Masque, the official student dramatic organization, constantly strives to improve the quality of theatrical endeavor at Sewanee, and, at the same time, to present interesting and cultural activities for those who participate and for those who witness the productions. "Laburnum Grove," by J. B. Priestley, was the first production of the year. Featured in lead roles were Ed Stewart and Dave Evett. The most ambitious undertaking of the year was George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," presented in March. Barbara Tinnes played the difficult part of Joan of Arc, and was supported by thirty-one actors. Purple Masque planned to present a light musical during May, with the score composed by Arnold Rose. A one-act play was also to be given in connection with musical. Officers of Purple Masque for the year were Gene Smith, president; Dave Evett, vice-president; Bill Watkins, secretary; and Bob Wright, business and publicity manager. At this writing, Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity had not been reactivated, but plans were being made to do so. Brinley Rhys is Purple Masque's director.

GERMAN CLUB

Founded less than a decade after Sewanee opened, the historic German Club derives its name from a dance popular in the last century. One of the outstanding service bodies at Sewanee, the German Club deserves a great deal of credit for planning, coordinating, and organizing the main dances held during the academic year. This year the German Club went all-out in an effort to bring big-name bands to Sewanee. The ever-popular Homecoming Dance, held in November, featured Dean Hudson's orchestra. Also, two jazz concerts were given Friday and Saturday afternoons by John Gordy's group and Dean Hudson's orchestra, respectively. The German Club outdid itself again at Midwinter's, when Billy May's orchestra held forth. One of the most noteworthy achievements of the German Club this year, was the fact that they were able to persuade University authorities to allow them to hold the formals in Gailor Dining Hall, which added much to the color of the dances. As the CAP AND GOWN went to press, the German Club was already planning for the June Commencement dances. Although not official, it was thought that Owen Bradley's orchestra would play for this event. Officers of the German Club were Norman Walsh, president; John Wilkinson, vice-president; Ed West, treasurer; and Bill Senter, secretary.

ties by a group staff. The planning and coordination of the unit's activities are largely carried out by the cadet colonel and his staff. Cadet Lt. Col. John E. M. Ellis was appointed group commander. Lt. Col. Sam Whiteside, USAF, became the unit's new Professor of Air Science this year.

First and second year students attend classes twice weekly, and advanced students attend classes four times weekly. Leadership laboratories are held once weekly during the winter months, and twice weekly the first and last halves of the two semesters. Advanced students are paid for class attendance.

A student who takes Air Science is granted a deferment as long as he remains in the program, and advanced students are generally commissioned as second lieutenants upon graduation.

The AFROTC band, led by Major Cadet Major William Stamler, presented an impressive halftime program for the Homecoming game, and was again honor band for the Rex parade at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

The Arnold Air Society, composed of outstanding junior and senior cadets, undertook as one of its service projects, the improvement of and participation in the athletic program at the Sewanee Grammar School. Softballs, bats, and other equipment was obtained and lent to the school. Sewanee's chapter of this national honorary AFROTC organization is known as the Matthew K. Deichmann Squadron.

The annual government inspection and the Awards Ceremony in the Spring marked the major events of the year for the unit. On the lighter side, the Cadet Club presented the annual Military Ball in the Spring. The Sabre Drill Team, led by Cadet Major Clyde Fasick, performed at the dance.

At this writing, plans were being formulated to have four, large-type troop carrying helicopters fly several scores of students to Sewart Air Force Base, Smyrna, Tenn., for a tour the Friday of Midwinter's weekend.

The AFROTC system at Sewanee has benefitted the University in many ways. The Professors of Air Science have striven to maintain the military and liberal arts traditions of Sewanee to the fullest possible extent permitted them under the military system.

Led by Band Commander Bill Stamler, the AFROTC-University band marches between the halves at the Homecoming Game.

Tennessee Beta of Pi Gamma Mu is one of a hundred active chapters of this National Social Science Honor Society. Those students having a "B" average for twenty hours in economics and business, history, and political science, and who have shown an interest in the field of the social sciences are eligible for election to membership in this organization. Membership is limited to ten per cent of the upper classmen. The heads of the economics and business, history, and political science departments automatically become members. Mr. Underdown and Mr. Thames are the organization's advisers for this year. Monthly meetings are held at which time speeches, debates, and discussions concerning current issues of interest are conducted. This year Hodding Carter and John Temple Graves addressed the Society at open meetings. As a special project, the organization sponsored an open debate on the segregation issue in the South.

SOPHERIM

Sopherim, the main purpose of which has been to bring together students interested in literature and creative writing for study and criticism, has been a functioning body at Sewanee since its beginning in 1904. Established as a local organization through the efforts of William Alexander Percy, it has in time spread to other campuses, and a national fraternity, Sigma Upsilon, was built around it. At regular meetings held twice monthly, there is analysis and criticism of the members' writing, and, three times a year, consideration of short stories, poems, and essays of persons interested in joining the group. Sopherim's principal public service is to bring a prominent man of letters to lecture once a year at a meeting open to the entire student body. Mr. Allen Tate lectured on the subject of Modern Poetry, 1900-1950, in December. Members of the faculty are often invited to speak on topics of interest.

Founded seven years ago, the Music Club exists for the expressed purpose of furthering the musical education and appreciation of its members. To achieve this, the Club promotes an exchange of knowledge and talent among its members, and attempts to stimulate a desire for the appreciation of music among students and residents on the Mountain. Composed of members who show an honest desire to further this interest, the club sponsors several activities during the year. This year, in observance of the Mozart Bi-Centennial celebration, the Music Club helped sponsor a concert series featuring well-known artists in the Chattanooga area. Three concerts of Mozart's works were presented on the Mountain by members of the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra. Other activities included supporting and backing performances and recitals by local musicians. Membership in the Music Club is elective, and may not exceed twenty-five, but many open meetings are held at which programs by talented members are presented.

MUSIC CLUB

Nunnally, Evans, Followill, Markham, C. Hamilton, McAllister, W. Hamilton, Murdaugh, Butt.

Hathorn, Adams, Hyde, Dr. Pickering.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club, a relatively new organization on the Mountain, was organized early in the year, with Dr. Pickering as its adviser. Through the efforts of Dr. Pickering, the club received a licensed station K4ETH, and the transmitting studio was set up in Magnolia. The station contains about $4,000 worth of equipment, including three transmitters, two receivers, and the necessary accessories. The club undertook as one of its major projects during the year the rebuilding of one of its transmitting sets, in an attempt to reduce or eliminate television interference on the Mountain. During the year, members of the Club were able to contact and communicate with other "hams" by voice transmission or Morse Code from every continent of the world except Asia. The station boasts a maximum of 250 watts. Members must hold an amateur radio license. Code classes for those interested were held during the year. President of the Club was Charles Hathorn; vice-president was Bob Adams, and secretary-treasurer was Jim Hyde.

The Debate Council is the governing body of intercollegiate and intramural public speaking at Sewanee, and is composed of ten men who have shown interest and ability in forensic competition. The Rev. Jonas White, Instructor of Public Speaking, is adviser and coach to the group. The Council grew out of two now inactive debate societies, Sigma Epsilon and Pi Omega. The debating team participated in debating tournaments during the year at the University of Alabama, Agnes Scott, and various other colleges. As the CAP & GOWN went to press, the team was making plans to attend the Grand National Debate Tournament. Members of the council are K. Finley, M. Morris, W. Morris, F. Sharp, T. Thagard, J. Walker, W. Watson, R. Wright, W. Moore and P. Stout.

Harrison, Stoneham, Werlein, Turner, Dr. Bates, Abel, Ricks.

FRENCH CLUB

Composed of students electing French as their foreign language, the French Club seeks to promote interest in the French cultural tradition and to extend the appreciation of French as a living means of communication. These aims are realized through monthly meetings, conferences, and other activities. During the monthly meetings, interest is added to the meetings by speaking only French. Many aspects of French life are considered, ranging from impressionnisme (French impressionistic painting) to le jazz hot, and from the tales of a Sewaneean in Paris to life in a University in France. The highlight of the club's year is the annual French Club banquet. Native dishes are served, and French is spoken altogether. The singing of hearty chansons adds to the event. Dr. Buck, Professor of French, and Dr. Bates, assistant Professor of French, serve as the club's sponsors.

The Student Vestry is a representative body of seven students—two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, one freshman, and one seminarian—who must be members of some Christian Communion. The principle aim of the Vestry is the development of the student religious life. The Vestry acts as an advisory council to the Chaplain in expressing the wishes and needs of the students, and in aiding the Chaplain in his work. It initiates and fosters local plans and programs to further the cause of the Christian religion, and it cooperates with the religious organizations and movements in other colleges.

STUDENT VESTRY

Seated: Chaplain Collins. Standing: Dunlap, Horne, Duggan, Philson, Jewell.

ACOLYTE CLUB

Sewanee's Acolyte Guild plays an integral part in University life, and is composed of approximately sixty students of the college of arts and sciences. The Guild exists principally for the purpose of giving practical experience and an opportunity to participate in the religious services and activities of the college. Members of the Guild participate in all the services held at All Saints' Chapel during the year, which have been estimated at somewhere over seven hundred. Other activities of the Guild include a monthly Corporate Communion service of the members of the guild, and the sponsorship of the annual milk fund drive to raise money which is used to help buy milk for the colored school children of the community. The guild also sponsors annual Christmas party in cooperation with St. Luke's for the members of St. Mark's parish. Meetings are held once monthly, when improvements in services and activities are discussed. Officers for the year were G. L. Chapel, president; Jack Dennis, vice-president; Daniel Ricks, secretary, and Wallace Tomlinson, treasurer.

VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

Crawley, Taylor, Marssdorf, Scheel, Allen, West, Mayson, Avant, Beall, McCrady, Hayes.

McElroy, Waymouth, Johnson, Butler, Keck. Standing: Peebles, Cochrane, Jones, Hatchett, Woolfolk, Matthews, Anglea, Wilkinson, Slade, Perkins.

LOS PEONES

The Los Peones wear as their distinguishing costumes sombreros, serapes, and other articles of clothing reminiscent of Old Mexico. All members must have either taken Spanish or be taking it at the time of their initiation into the group. Established some eight years ago, the Los Peones maintain that their avowed purposes are "to stimulate conversational Spanish, promote fellowship on the campus, and study the social customs of Spain." No one doubts the success of the second objective, as much fellowship was definitely created at the various "get-togethers" held during the year.

Scottish kilts and hats are the distinguishing dress of the Highlanders, one of three truly "social clubs" on the Mountain. Always an integral part of the Homecoming parade, the Highlanders and the Wellingtons provided a bit of "textra" parading during the halftime ceremonies of the Washington and Lee Homecoming football game. The Highlanders' purpose is, they say, "to increase and disseminate appreciation of Scottish customs and institutions among the student body." Membership in the Highlanders is limited to four men from each fraternity.

HIGHLANDERS

Interspersed with interlopers are: Talley, Morris, Fasick, Woessner, Walker, Berry, Troy, Kneeland, Salmon, Wilson.

Savage, Green, Banks, Saussy, Echols, Maxwell. Standing: Willich, Donahey, Palmer, Hughes, Stewart, Finlay, Murray, Mattison, Murray, Scarritt, Nichols.

WELLINGTONS

A Wellington is easily identified by his black top hat and walking cane. The "Prime Minister" of the organization is identified by his white wig. Conceived and organized in 1948, the Wellingtons maintain that their main purpose for existence is for a "full realization of the great Anglo-Saxon heritage, and the perpetuation of these ideals." Born of a desire to preserve the ancient traditions and governmental system of the mother country, membership in the Wellingtons is limited to eighteen. They are presided over by a prime minister, a president of the privy seal, a secretary of the council, and a sergeant-at-arms.

Letter of Acknowledgment

Moments of Sewanee History . . .

Will not cease with the publication of the 1956 CAP AND GOWN. It is a very small part of the many moments that we have experienced during the year. The association with the annual staff was the factor that made the moments of the editor much happier and much more enjoyable. To thank all who worked on the annual would be an endless task. Our sincerest thanks go to the Mr. John T. Benson, III, of Benson Printing Co. who patiently assisted throughout the year; to Mr. Cooley of the Collins and Cooley Photographic Studios of Nashville who did the excellent photographic work that is between these pages; to Mr. Robert Coulson of the Coulson Studio for his action photography; to Mr. Robert Faerber of the Alabama Engraving Co. for his very kind assistance through the year; to the Alumni Office for the kind use of their files; and to Pat Young and Cameron Mitchell for their fine photographic work. It is hoped that the 1956 CAP AND GOWN will move closer to the ideal of the yearbook Sewanee so greatly deserves.
